120 g Nutella® (10 g/portion)

METHOD

1

For the white dough: quickly mix the butter with the sugar and a pinch of salt. Add the egg yolks, flour and then the almonds. Knead, form into a ball and place in the fridge for 30 minutes. For the cocoa dough: repeat the above with the stated ingredients.

2

On a floured pastry board, roll out the first dough into a rectangle with a thickness of 1 cm. Brush the surface with whisked egg white. Repeat the same process with the cocoa dough. Cut the dough into rectangles and arrange the biscuits on baking trays covered with baking paper. Bake in an oven pre-heated to 180°C for approximately 20 minutes.

3

Remove from the oven and allow them to cool. Insert one cocoa dough biscuit between two white dough biscuits, overlapping and "gluing" them together with a thin layer of Nutella®.
